Risk-managed approach

Investors face a number of risks, including market, interest rate, inflation and running out of money in retirement. Because performance can't be predicted, we constructed the portfolios to balance multiple risks to increase the likelihood investors achieve their retirement goals.

Broad diversification

The portfolios hold a mix of stock, bond, and money market investments with a focus on providing greater wealth accumulation from a smoother ride through erratic markets. While diversification does not insure against a loss, it may help reduce downside risk.

Disciplined active management

Our asset allocation team handles the day-to-day details of selecting, overseeing and rebalancing underlying funds. We believe active security selection is the best way to improve return potential. It also helps limit the downside during periods of market stress.

The glide path shows how we decrease the exposure to stocks over time to help reduce volatility.

We start out with a growth-oriented asset mix focused on building your savings. We gradually shift to investments that help shield your account balance while still maintaining some growth potential. Our goal is to provide the greatest opportunity for your money to last throughout retirement.

The target date is the approximate year when investors plan to start withdrawing their money. The principal value of the investment is not guaranteed at any time, including at the target date. Each portfolio seeks the highest total return consistent with its asset mix. Each year, the asset mix and weightings are adjusted to be more conservative. In general, as the target year approaches, the portfolio's allocation becomes more conservative by decreasing the allocation to stocks and increasing the allocation to bonds and cash alternatives.

One Choice® 2060 not yet rated. For each fund with at least a three-year history, Morningstar calculates a Morningstar Rating™ based on a Morningstar Risk-Adjusted Return measure that accounts for variation in a fund's monthly performance, placing more emphasis on downward variations and rewarding consistent performance. Morningstar ratings are based upon Investor class of shares, unless otherwise indicated. For each fund with at least a three-year history, Morningstar calculates a Morningstar Rating™ based on a Morningstar Risk-Adjusted Return measure that accounts for variation in a fund's monthly performance (including the effects of sales charges, loads, and redemption fees), placing more emphasis on downward variations and rewarding consistent performance. The top 10% of funds in each category receive 5 stars, the next 22.5% receive 4 stars, the next 35% receive 3 stars, the next 22.5% receive 2 stars and the bottom 10% receive 1 star. (Each share class is counted as a fraction of one fund within this scale and rated separately, which may cause slight variations in the distribution percentages.) The Overall Morningstar Rating™ for a fund is derived from a weighted average of the performance figures associated with its three-, five- and ten-year (if applicable) Morningstar Rating™ metrics. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Investment return and fund share value will fluctuate and it is possible to lose money by investing in these funds. The Morningstar percentile ranking is based on the fund's total-return relative to all funds in the category.
